

Yukon University
FOUNDATION

Together, for the North

A $4 million campaign to invest in the future leaders and change-makers of the Yukon.

At Yukon University, students realize their fullest potential.

Since we opened our doors in 1963, we have been committed to offering excellence in trades training.

Building upon that tradition, your support will help grow future leaders and change-makers in this vital sector of the Yukon's workforce.

Students learn from qualified tradespeople with real-world experience. They graduate ready to work, equipped with a northern perspective that enables them to contribute to and grow an agile workforce in the territory.

This is an exciting moment to address the skilled labour shortage by investing in access to accredited pre-apprenticeship programs and apprenticeship training.

Success Leads to Skilled Trades for the North

The demand for skilled trades is growing

Your investment will help Yukon University:

- provide upskilling in the trades and bridge the technical gap
- empower more women, non-binary persons, international students and New Canadians to access trades training
- address the trades training space shortage at YukonU
- establish a trades and apprenticeship training facility in Dawson City
- invest in equipment and expertise to teach apprenticeship levels
- increase the availability of apprenticeship training in all Yukon communities, and
- increase learning opportunities across all the trades programs

We invite you to join us on this journey.

We would be thrilled to discuss the impact your investment can make.
